

Life has been much simpler knowing I can answer the phone without the thought of being rude to someone who is doing their job, but who I have no desire to hear from. I am not interested in any of those calls and definitely prefer not to receive them.